General Meeting

September 2018 Minutes- The minutes are posted on the SACG website.

Treasurer's Report: Carolyn Patton reported a bank balance of $12,148.61 in addition to the amounts that are in the Scholarship and Education Funds. The 2018-2019 Budget was also presented and approved.

Committee Reports:

Program Chair: Suzan was recognized for the Quiz she provided tonight related to her Program "Calligraphy and Architecture". The Early Bird next month will be "Finding Inspiration in the Ordinary", presented by Leslie Winakur and Maggie Gillikin. The Early Bird Display will be "Discussion of Sketchbooks as Inspiration". December will be a Potluck Dinner.

Membership Chair: Fernando introduced a new member, Elizabeth Ponei.

Mini Workshop Chair: Maggie discussed the mini workshop to be presented by Brian Zampier on October 18th on Felted Animals. There will be additional felting kits available for purchase. The workshop is from 7-9 pm at the Parish Hall of Christ Episcopal Church.

Exhibits: Leslie presented the following information for Monica. Our first exhibit will be in February at the Parma Library. Monica has also arranged for an exhibit at the Carver Community Cultural Center for May 1-23, 2019. Members are encouraged to use the Share Table as an opportunity to get feedback and support of their work from SACG members. Many members have works which are potentially ready for exhibit but may not realize it. Also participation in workshops such as the November workshop offered by Leslie and Maggie where you can come away with a major piece of art is a good way to develop an exhibit piece.

Scholarship Chair: Bonnie Hauser stated that funds are available for workshops. Members must be in the Guild for a minimum of two years to be eligible. Participation is confidential.

Newsletter: Karen (for Natalie Fowler) stated that October 8th was the deadline for items for the newsletter.

Hospitality: Rosie Gonzales thanked the members who had brought food this evening. She also encouraged people to sign up to bring food in future months.

Door Prize: Two winners tonight! Elizabeth Ponei and BJ Grant.

Book Dedication: Book Dedications in memory of Betty Lou Jordan and Lenora Jordan were presented by Lynn Rothe and Laura Herold, with several family members present. These books will permanently reside in the SACG Library.

Adjourn: 7:24PM
